New for 2021!

As veterinary physiotherapists we need to be able to work and communicate with other allied professionals - especially farriers and dentists. Owners want their 'team' to work together to deliver the best possible care for their horse. This CPD focuses on what the farrier needs to consider during assessment regarding foot balance and conformation - and his findings and resulting action will have a huge implication on our work, therefore we need to be able to work together to produce the best possible result for our patients and their owners.

About Wayne

Wayne gained the DipWCF in October 1988 with honours. He started his own farriery practice in 1994 in Settle, North Yorkshire. He shod a wide variety of horses but soon gained a reputation for shoeing lame horses working as a referral farrier for a veterinary practice.

Wayne became an approved training farrier in 1997 passing his AWCF exam in 2001. In 2004 he was employed at Myerscough College progressing to head farriery tutor in 2006. He became a qualified teacher in 2008 and gained the highest level of the Worshipful Company of Farriers, becoming an FWCF in the same year. In 2013 he became senior tutor at Hereford School of Farriery until 2017 when he decided to go back to what he loved the best, shoeing horses.

Wayne is a clinician both at home in the UK as well as abroad, with regular clinics in the USA, Israel, Poland and Denmark.
